Welcome to newcomers from Irish Civil Society sector!

We had a great day in the RDS recently at the Access Europe event organised by The Wheel, where future applicants had a chance to ask a few basic questions on their project ideas – please do reach out to me directly to discuss your project ideas.

Results from Call 2 and Call 3 Small Scale available

Final decisions on Call 2 Step 2 and Call 3 Small Scale are now available. Lead Partners will be contacted directly by the Joint Secretariat with an official letter confirming the decision.

Congratulations! It was a real pleasure to see so many Irish partners have success projects in both calls – and especially Irish led projects – ECOPRO, DIGIHERB and TERREMPLO led by TU Shannon: Midlands Midwest, National Botanic Gardens (OPW) and Ballymun Job Centre respectively. Well done to all involved. For those who were not successful, please be aware that you can always apply to Call 4; the letter sent to the Lead Partners will include some feedback on areas for improvement. Please feel free to reach out to me as your contact point for advice and guidance should you decide to resubmit.

And congratulations again...

To José Ospina from the Carbery Housing Association, awarded a prize by Access Europe Showcase for work on the Interreg North West Europe funded Red Wolf project – a consortium of 14 Partner Institutions from France, Ireland, Belgium, UK and Germany. The project focused on increasing renewable energy using solar panels that do not have gas across 32 pilot homes in Ireland, UK and France. Houses were fitted with hybrid storage systems merging batteries and storage heaters. The total project budget was €6 million
