Overview

- History of UpTheDeise Enterprises
- Early experiences with Dial-Up
- Switching to Broadband
- Connecting with end users
- Implications of Broadband on my business
- Broader Implications
- Future of UpTheDeise Enterprises
- Conclusion

Personal History

- Worked in the TSSG at WIT in R&D
- Key role in several EU and EI projects
  - Raised in excess of 2M for SE region
  - Instant Messaging and Web Technologies
- Great experience with broadband
- In stark contrast to dial-up at home ☹
- Remember that screeching sound....

Seeding of UpTheDeise.com

- Set up UpTheDeise.com in spare time
- It was an instant hit in Waterford due to the content on it... e.g.

- I setup a forum on it to encourage repeat traffic to the website

Dealing with Dial-up

- Initially I used dial-up... S-L-O-W
- I spent a long time each night:
  - waiting for email
  - waiting for pages to refresh
  - uploading content
- Most consumers of the site were on dial-up too at that point
- A very frustrating period

The Search for Broadband

- Fixed line unavailable at time in Waterford
- Temporary solution with Amateur Group
- No solution only 3 miles from city
- Then came 3G mobile broadband 😊
- Never looked back, but...

Immediate Consequences

- Broadband facilitated upload multimedia content more quickly and efficiently
- Facilitated faster reaction to user needs
- As users switched they began submitting more of their own content
- Site became self-sufficient

Ardmore + HDR

Waterford City Courthouse

Lismore Castle Gardens

Generating Site Traffic

- Site traffic directly correlates with earnings via product sales and advertising
- Multi-pronged approach to gaining more traffic:
  - SEO – Page Rank, Growing Content DB
  - Paid Campaigns – Google Adwords
  - Social networks and Web2.0 used to interweave content and virally market

Creating the Business

- In 2006 I realised the business opportunity in online advertising
- I quit full time pensionable job to follow dream
- I joined the excellent SEEPP programme to kick start it
- I would not have considered this without access to broadband connection

Slang.ie – For Focal Sake

- During SEEP I created Slang.ie
- Collected slang terms from thousands
- Published 'For Focal Sake' from content
- Modern day cottage industry
- Using techniques utilised by UTD to promote Slang.ie & ForFocalSake nationally

Implications for my business

- Slang.ie concept facilitated
- Reach consumers in new cost effective ways
- Allowed me to rapidly produce products based on consumer requirements
- Resulted in massive increase in productivity
- Resulted in more users online on evenings and weekends
- Allowed me to keep website compelling
  - Content Management System – live edits
  - Communicate with more people more quickly

Broader Implications

- Allows users to find answers to problems themselves, teach a man to fish etc.
- Makes the world smaller but increases business opportunities
- Always on also makes people more contactable via technologies...
  - Support, business, training, leisure
- Not just an information resource... enjoyable, educational, cultural, business resource.

Hamstrung by Lack of Broadband?

- Ireland has been / is held back by lack of broadband penetration / take up
- International companies have had a head start...
- For example without high-speed broadband infrastructure, companies like Skype could not start here

Alexa Observations

- Alexa is a website traffic monitoring website
- 0 of top 10 sites in Ireland are Irish
- In comparison in New Zealand, trademe.co.nz is no.2 after Google and the NZ Herald is no.10
- RTE, DAFT and AIB are 14,15,16 and then besides ebay.ie it's 20s before next
- Encouraging to see boards.ie in top 30

Future of UTD Enterprises

- Taking experiences learned from UTD and Slang.ie and applying them to new project
- Intend to scale up to international scale
- Prototype to be launched in Q1 09
- Will use SEO skills and viral marketing experience to seed and popularise

Conclusion

- Broadband has made the web a cultural, educational and business asset
- It allowed me to start my business in earnest and there are many like me
- Allow me to develop skills at local level In order to compete in a global market place
- Strengthening our broadband infrastructure will put us on a level playing field globally
